

ABOUT KANSAS SNAP-ED

The Kansas Supplemental Nutrition Education Program (SNAP-Ed) offers free nutrition education for individuals, families, youth and seniors who qualify for food assistance.

Funding is provided by the Food and Nutrition Service (FNS) of the United States Department of Agriculture (USDA) through a contract with the Department of Children and Families (DCF), formerly SRS.

This program is administered and implemented by K-State Research and Extension. Extension educators provide nutrition education in their counties in partnership with community agencies and organizations.

WHAT SNAP-ED DOES

We help individuals, families and children:

- ✓ Enjoy more fruits and vegetables
- ✓ Increase physical activity
- ✓ Choose and prepare nutritious meals and snacks
- ✓ Develop budgeting, shopping and cooking skills
- ✓ Use safe food handling, preparation and storage practices

WHAT PARTICIPANTS SAY...

"I used what I learned on portion distortion to change the way I eat and I lost weight."

"I rarely cook, but this Stir Fry recipe is easy enough for me to try."

"I'm using what I learned to save at the grocery store."
